

FORUM SURYOYO – Conclusion

This Conclusion reflects the key outcomes of the discussions and shared dialogue among the participants of the first FORUM SURYOYO.

1. We, the participants of FORUM SURYOYO, gathered in Frankfurt on 12 September 2026, reaffirm our shared commitment to the future of our community and to the preservation and continued development of our language, culture, heritage, and collective identity.
2. Our different countries of origin, professional backgrounds, experiences, and perspectives enrich our community. We are united by our common roots, our deep connection to our ancestral homeland, and by a shared conviction: that the future of our community is best served through knowledge, engagement, dialogue, a strong culture of free debate, cooperation, and mutual respect.
3. We honor the achievements and sacrifices of previous generations who preserved our identity through difficult times, and we build upon the foundation they created.
4. We believe that a strong and vibrant civil society is essential to the long-term success and resilience of our community worldwide.
5. FORUM SURYOYO shall serve as an independent and inclusive platform where ideas can be exchanged freely, where open, constructive and critical dialogue is encouraged, and where people from different parts of society can meet, cooperate, and contribute to the common good.
6. The FORUM is a platform for cultural practitioners, entrepreneurs, academics, people engaged in civil society, representatives of churches, political parties, foundations, NGOs, and others, as well as for all those who wish to play an active role in civil society. It is intended neither as an umbrella organization nor as a substitute for existing organizations, but rather as a space for engagement, dialogue, and discussion.

We affirm the following principles:

- A. Respect for diversity of opinion and the promotion of a constructive culture of debate.

- B. Bringing together and strengthening efforts to preserve and promote our language, culture, and heritage.
- C. Promoting education, leadership, innovation, and civic engagement.
- D. Creating synergies across generations, professions, organizations, and national borders—for the benefit of exchange, the promotion of culture, and economic cooperation.

May the FORUM be a place where encounters build trust, where dialogue gives rise to ideas and ideas develop into initiatives, and where cooperation contributes to a stronger future for our community.

It is therefore our ambition that FORUM SURYOYO will become an established and vibrant tradition.
